LET'S MEET

personally – during our International Staff Week

New Work – New Study from May 5 to May 9, 2025

New Study and New Work encompass numerous new challenges in the world of work and study. Key competences in AI make our work easier. At the same time, it represents a major challenge in everyday study life. New Work is often a balancing act between flexibility and productivity. We also find all these challenges in working in an international environment, which we want to discuss intensively.
